Useful info

TRANSFER FEES

Transfer fees are not requested for wedding within 50km of Trento. For all other cases travel costs, refund of travel, accommodation and meal costs are requested.

COVERAGE HOURS

For standard weddings, in my experience 10 hours are the right amount of time in order to have a complete shooting; in any case, I'll stay with you until wedding cake cut and first dances: my main goal is always to guarantee you a full reportage of your wedding day.

BOOKING

For the reservation of your date, I'll ask you to sign a contract and send a deposit. The final balance will be required together with your wedding gallery delivery.

DELIVERY TIME

I know you're so curious and you can't wait to see your photos! I always strive to be as quick as possible in the editing phase, which is though such a fundamental part of my work and needs time, care and attention. In any case, I guarantee delivery within four months from your wedding day.

MEALS

During lunch or dinner I'll stop from photography and I'll take a little break to do a backup of my work. People don't like to be photographed while eating - they would get so embarrassed. But don't worry, I'll always be at your disposal at all times.

DETAILS

Videos, speeches or any other big moment: whatever you have planned, be sure to keep me updated, so that I can be in the right place at the right time to be able to tell everything in the best way!

ALBUM AND PRINTS

Both before your wedding and after it you can add personalized albums and prints to your photo package, to get your memories printed forever: albums and parents books, fine art prints and so many other beautiful products.

VIDEO

I don't do videos but I often get the opportunity to work with great videomakers, that will be able to create for you refined and emotional products. Write me, I'll be more than happy to recommend them!

Timing and planning

BRIDE AND GROOM GETTING READY

The day always starts with bride and groom getting ready. The main characters of this part are details - your outfits, makeup and hair, the stationary - but it is also a good time to create intimate and family memories with your beloved ones, be it friends, parents or your best men and bridesmaids.

THE CEREMONY

Be it religious, symbolic or civil, the ceremony will always be a solemn moment. And that's why a photographer has to be unnoticeable.

I avoid using lights and flash and I refrain from photographing in some specific moments - like for example during the sermon in religious ceremonies - in order to avoid movements, so as not to disturb the celebrant or your guests. But instead I'll get closer to you in the most important parts of the ceremony, such as your wedding vows or the exchange of rings.

REPORTAGE MOMENTS

Much of the photoshoot is a spontaneous storytelling. The aperitif, lunch or dinner, the party. In all these moments, all you have to think about is having fun and enjoying the day. It's also time to have some photos of your guests, so that you can have plenty of memories of them.

GROUP SHOTS

The most classic photos, but also the ones that will allow you to have a memory of all your guests. I suggest to organize the group shots during the aperitif, before your guests sit at the table for lunch or dinner. And I always ask your family or best men and bridesmaids for support, in order to be as quick and organized as possible.

COUPLE SHOTS

Here we are to one of the most important topic! There are always so many questions when talking about couple shots: where will we take them? At what time? How long will it take to have beautiful photos? I'm sure you've already read about it, photographers have a weakness for golden hour, that time of the day just before sunset when the light is gold and soft - and I'm no exception. But this doesn't mean golden hour is a necessary factor to have magical and stunning photos.

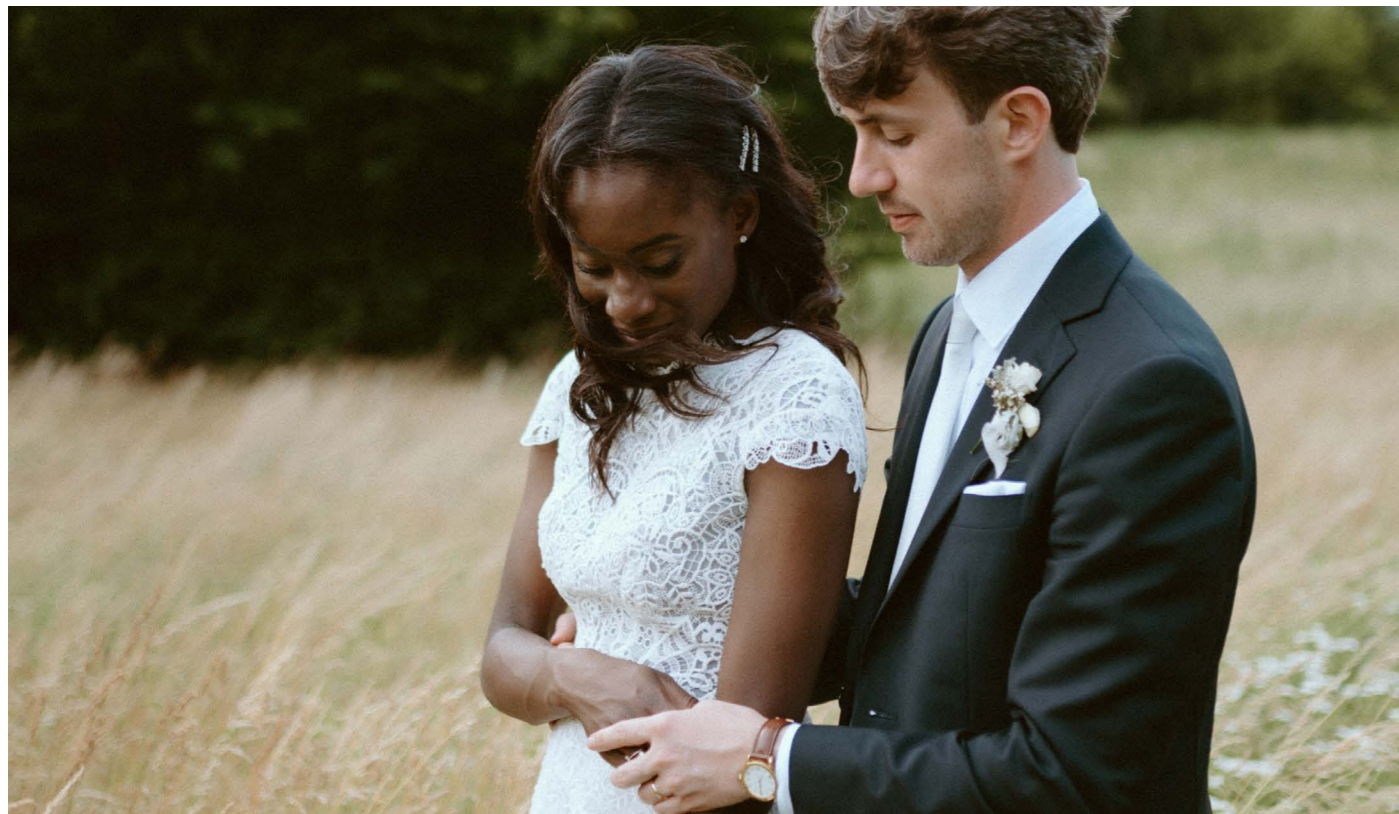

So, in my experience, half an hour is the perfect amount of time we need. I don't like to take away bride and groom for hours and hours and definitely do not want to make you lose the party and all the moments and laughs and cheers with your families and friends. Not to talk about other vendors, especially your catering, that have to follow a specific schedule in order to provide you the best service.

For all these reasons, I always consider both your catering and the light when I have to plan the couple shots - and obviously the weather of that day. What I'm saying is that we can have a clear plan in our mind, based on your location, time of the year and so on, but we do have to be ready to change that plan in progress - and I will take care about all this stuff.

CAKE, FIRST DANCE AND PARTY

The wedding photoshoot always ends with these photos. But keep in mind, nothing is mandatory: would you like to keep your bouquet instead of tossing it? Do you hate the idea of dancing in front of all your guests? Good, so you don't have to do that! All you have to do is to enjoy your day.

I will be there for you in any case, just to have some photos of your guests while dancing like crazy, before saying goodbye.

Engagement session

Engagement sessions are such a precious moment, both for you and me.

It's like we meet at a café, but with me taking photos of you in the meantime. It's a session in which we can chat and know each other better, while becoming familiar with the camera. I'll unveil some tricks to enhance yourself as models and when your wedding day come, you will be at ease during couple shots.

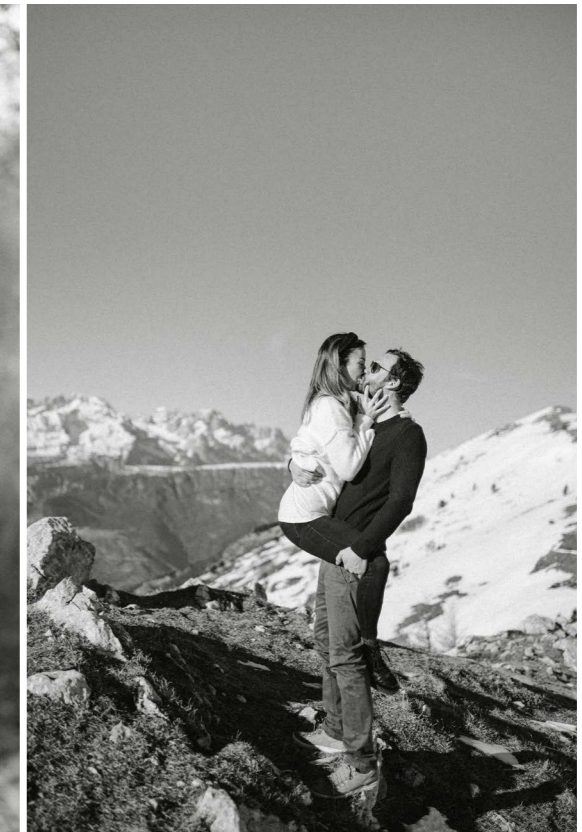

And it's an opportunity to have some romantic photos, that you will love so much more than all that selfies you always take with your phone!
